

FLAC MIRROR

This application provides you with a very simple way to make compressed copies of your music files, which can be more suitable for your mobile devices or for streaming over a low-speed network.

With a couple of mouse-clicks you can make copies of your entire collection to mp3 format. The original files are not changed in any way. A handy feature of this app is that if you add new music the FLAC Mirror app will only need to mirror the new files.

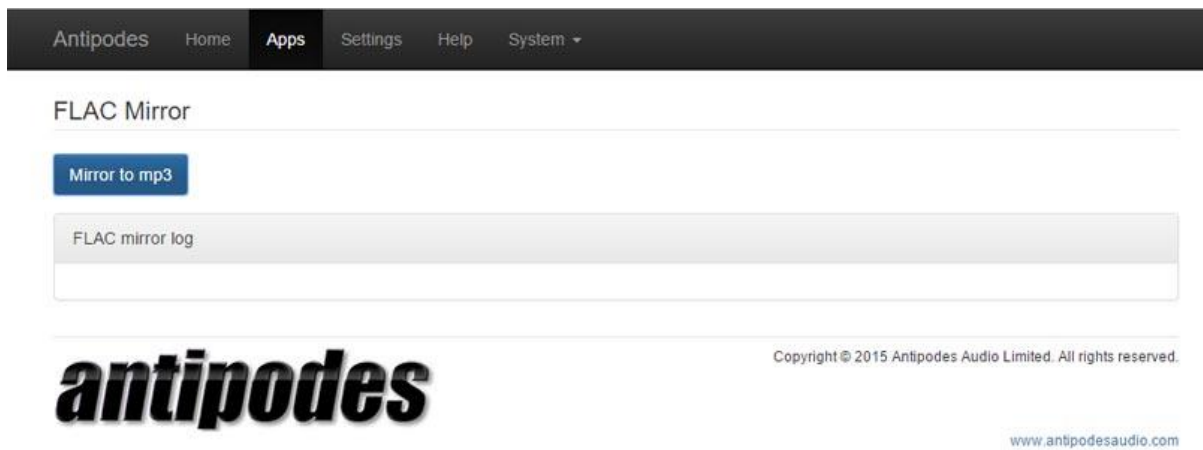

The mp3 files are located at `\\antipodes\storage\music\mp3`. You can set this location as a music source in a network player, or copy from this location to your mobile device.

If you need a wider range of functionality for transcoding files, see the section in this Guide 'Manage Files' for how to use your preferred third-party app.

At the Antipodes GUI, click on 'Apps'.

Click on 'FLAC Mirror'.

Click on the 'Mirror to mp3' button.

Click 'OK' and the screen will display progress until it has finished.
